CHILD SWALLOWS POISON AND DIES FROM THE EFFECT

Little William Morrison, Son
W. H. Morrison, of South
Sixth Street.

Found Eye Medicine in Sew- ing Machine Drawer.

MEDICAL EFFORTS UNAVAILING.

From the effects of drinking about one-fourth of an ounce of an eye solution containing morphine and atropin, little William H. Morrison, the eighteen-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Holland Morrison, 829 South Sixth street, died this morning at 12:30 o'clock. The child obtained the medicine yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock and the poison was thoroughly assimilated in its system, as it was nearly two hours before a physician reached him.

The little boy was playing in a room yesterday afternoon, when he found the bottle, containing about one-half ounce of the medicine, which was an eye remedy that had been used about two years ago by Mr. Joseph Wagner. He played with the bottle for some time, and when found by his parents about half of the fluid that was in the bottle had disappeared and it is estimated that the child drank about one-fourth of an ounce. As quickly as possible the parents gave him emetics, but little benefit was derived.

Telephone calls were sent for physicians, but as many doctors were going to their homes for supper, it was some time before a physician could be located and reach the home. Dr. C. A. Isbell was the first to reach the boy, who was drowsy from the effects of the poison. Dr. Horace Livers and Dr. W. J. Hays arrived in a short time, but all efforts to counteract the poison proved fruitless. From the first it was seen that it was a hopeless case. Dr. N. W. Hilton, of the staff of the Illinois Central hospital, worked with the child several hours, but only a few times did he appear to rally, and early this morning the boy died.

The bottle, containing the poison, was filled about two years ago. It was in a drawer of the sewing machine, and parents never thought of their young son finding it. Morrison is a hostler at the Illinois Central round house.

The little child lost consciousness soon after drinking the poison and physicians that were called were afraid to use a stomach pump on account of the weak heart action. Morphine was given as an antidote.

The funeral will be conducted at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the home and burial will be at Oak Grove cemetery.

New Eastern Star Chapter.

A new chapter of the Eastern Star will be installed at Dawson Springs tonight. Mr. E. W. Whittemore, grand worthy patron of the state, will install the lodge, which will start off under auspicious circumstances. Several members from Paducah are expected to attend the installation.

Toad in Snow at Heath.

Whether it was a part of the snow, sleet and rain that fell yesterday, C. H. Unselt, a well known farmer of Heath, is uncertain, but while clearing away a path this morning he uncovered a frozen toad. As the toads are usually as deep in their holes as the ground hogs at this season Mr. Unselt is unable to account for the frog unless it descended from the skies.

SHIRNERS WILL ATTEND LOUISVILLE MEETING

A number of Paducah Shriners will attend a celebration of the Shrine at Nashville, February 22. Mr. I. Bailey has spent several days in the city, interesting local Shriners to attend, and last night he left for Fulton, and other towns in western Kentucky. The Nashville Shriners promise a big time. The Paducah Shriners will leave on train No. 102, and will return early the next morning on train No. 103.

Officers Fire When Mob at Cairo Attacks County Jail and One Man is Killed and Four Are Wounded

Militia on Guard There Today to Protect City—Mob Wished to Lynch Purse Snatchers Confined in Jail.

Cairo, Ill., Feb. 18, (Special).—Local company of militia, K. will be relieved this afternoon at 3 o'clock on the arrival of two companies, one of which is from Effingham, Ill. They will be accompanied by a personal representative of the governor.

Feeling is running high but today has progressed so far without any demonstrations. Trouble is expected tonight. All saloons are closed with warnings that their licenses will be revoked if they violate orders to close.

At midnight a party of about 100 men gathered at the court house and demanded of Sheriff Nellis that he give up the two negroes who have been snatching purses from white ladies this week, John Pratt and Lincoln Wilson, and they were fired on by a squad of deputies with the result that one man was killed and four were wounded.

The dead man was lying on the porch at the front entrance to the court house, and as the sheriff could permit no one to approach to take him away, nor permit any one inside the court house to go out, the identity of the dead man could not be ascertained up to 2:30 this morning.

It was learned at 3 o'clock this morning that the dead man was Alex M. or "Sping" Halliday, formerly a street car conductor here, a single man and son of former Mayor Thomas W. Halliday. He is known to have been with the crowd on the front porch of the court house and was missed from the crowd. He was about 35 years old.

The wounded are:

John Maloney, blacksmith, shot in head with small shot; wound not serious.

Sam Wensinger, shot in side of head by small shot and badly lacerated, but not fatal.

George B. Walker, Associated Press correspondent, shot with bullet in leg and coat torn by small shot.

Horton Cochran, shot in ankle.

Orders From Governor.

Sheriff Nellis was asked by telephone to permit some one to take the body of the dead man away. He said he would have to lay there all night if the mob did not disperse. He had orders from the governor to permit no one to get near the jail.

Dr. McManus was notified and he had a conversation with the sheriff, the latter informing him that under orders from the governor no one would be allowed to enter the court house yard until order had been restored.

Shot Without Orders.

When the mob first appeared at the court house Sheriff Nellis came to the door and told the men nearest him that he was sheriff and would protect the prisoners in his charge. He was about to say more when a number of shots rang out from the windows of the court house at which a number of deputies had been stationed.

It appears that all the harm was done by this one volley. The mob fired no shots at the court house. The crowd was stunned by the reception they got and made no further effort to get into the court house, retreating from the yard. Many other shots were fired from time to time by the deputies at the windows in any person in front of the court house, or who passed in the street.

Sheriff Nellis had several talks with the governor and says he acted

Petition Circulated For Paducah Sleeper

A petition is being circulated in Paducah this week, to the Illinois Central Railroad company, asking that the company put on a Louisville sleeper for the benefit of Paducah patrons.

The request is that a sleeper be added to the train, arriving here at 3:45 in the morning, and that it be dropped off, for use on the train, leaving at 1:20 the next morning.

This would enable passengers for Louisville to go to bed at any time in the evening, before train time, and permit those returning from Louisville to occupy the sleeper until a reasonable hour in the morning.

Col. Harry G. Rhodes is circulating the petition, and it is being signed by every one, to whom it is presented.

"This train would be the greatest convenience for Paducah patrons of the road that I know of, and I have

SEATTLE DEMANDED—DE-MATES IN CONGRESS.

Washington, Feb. 18.—At the Billings hearing today, it developed that the secretary's counsel will try to impeach some of the testimony of Glavis. When Vertrees requested a subpoena for Adolph Behrens, of Seattle, whom Glavis alleged was a close friend of the former chief of the Seattle division field service, Bennett and thus acquired extensive Alaska claims.

Cannon Scored.

Washington, Feb. 18.—The Indian appropriation bill was partly considered by the house. Burke, of South Dakota, reporting the measure, spoke at length upon the condition of the Indians. While the appropriations for the present fiscal year aggregated nearly $12,000,000, the aggregate of the pending bill is only $8,273,662, excluding payments to be made from trust funds.

Just before adjournment, Dies, of Texas, made a stirring appeal for restrictions in the immigration laws and denounced Cannonism.

"Cannon," he said, "like a Colossus, sits astride the house. Has the time come when only the Cannon Republicans can form a majority of the committees and only the Cannon Democrats be placed upon the minority of these committees?"

Most of the constituents, declared Dies, would "rather see their repre-

THREE HURT IN COLLISION.

Springfield, O., Feb. 18.—Three trainmen were probably fatally injured when a passenger train, north-bound, on the Detroit, Toledo & Ironton railroad dived into the rear end of an extra freight train near Hoswood during a blizzard.

The injured are:

Engineer Frank Mills, Fireman C. W. Dickinson, Conductor C. O. Brown.

No passengers were injured.

HIG HUNT ENDS.

Gondokoro, Soudan, Feb. 18.—Roosevelt and his party departed down the Nile today aboard the steam launch for Khartoum. The hunt can now be said to be ended. The launch is the best on the Nile and owned by General Wingate. Sardar of the Egyptian army. There will be several little side hunts on way down the Nile to Khartoum, but it is not expected the party will bag any game of consequence. Roosevelt's trophies comprise 83 different large animals and snakes. Kermit killed 40 others. The specimens all have been sent to the Smithsonian Institute, New York museum of natural history, and other museums.

Someone Cussed Him Out Over Phone and He Went on the War Path.

With a reprimand, Patrolman Henley Franklin was dismissed of the charge of misconduct while on duty by the board of fire and police commissioners last night. The charge was preferred by Yardmaster Byers, of the Illinois Central railroad, following a dispute that arose over two men trying to use a telephone at the same time.

During the controversy from the evidence somebody is alleged to have called Patrolman Franklin a vile name. The patrolman remonstrated, thinking that it was Mr. Byers. Mr. Franklin said at the time his wife was ill and that he was worried and agitated because of the loss of sleep and was in a quarrelsome mood. Yardmaster Byers said he regretted preferring the charges when the true situation was learned. Mayor Smith called Patrolman Franklin's attention to the fact that a patrolman should take more abuse than a private citizen. Patrolman Franklin promised to hold his temper in control next time.

NEW THERMOMETER INSTALLED

The Evening Sun has purchased maximum and minimum thermometers, duplicates of those used by the government observers and recommended by the forecaster at Louisville. These have been installed and the first readings were taken today. The lowest recorded was 10 above, and the maximum registered 34 today.

Hereafter Paducah will have a faithful record of local weather conditions from this office.

All Kentucky Caught.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 18, (Special).—Kentucky is in the grip of the worst blizzard in years. Especially is it severe in the western part of the state, but the snow and ice extends over all sections. Trains are delayed, and the telegraph service is hampered. In Louisville this morning the lowest registered was 5 degrees above zero.

Local Situation.

Paducah is gradually recovering from the effects of the blizzard. Today all street cars were in operation throughout the city and workmen were busy clearing the tracks on either side.

Several hundred dollars' damage was reported by telephone lines. The East Tennessee Telephone company suffered practically no loss in the city with the exception of several poles breaking off. The worst trouble was experienced on the toll line near Eddyville and Kuttawa. Damage to the extent of $500 was done to wires and poles in Paducah owned by the Home Telephone company. They report no loss along the toll lines.

Fast passenger train, No. 103, due at 3:52 o'clock from the east, did not arrive until after 9 o'clock this morning. The train was delayed in getting out of Louisville, in making connections with eastern trains, while the trip from Louisville was made in much slower time than scheduled. The passenger train from Cairo arrived late as wires were not working and the engineer ran on slow speed.

Charity Club.

The Charity club has received many requests for coal and fuel yesterday and today. Yesterday 40 families sent in appeals for assistance while today equally that many were received. The cold wave has proved unusually hard on the poor families of the city.

REPRIMAND

GIVEN PATROLMAN FOR GIVING WAY TO TEMPER.

Someone Cussed Him Out Over Phone and He Went on the War Path.

With a reprimand, Patrolman Henley Franklin was dismissed of the charge of misconduct while on duty by the board of fire and police commissioners last night. Steers Bill, Permitting Mingling of Tobacco of Same Grade, Passes Lower House of the Legislature

Exciting Time Experienced Yesterday Afternoon in Downing Lieut. Gov. Cox
on County Unit Bill.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 18, (Special).—The Steers' bill passed the house, allowing warehousemen to commingle tobacco of like grades. After a long fight the house refused to make the Wagoner county unit bill a special order.

The senate passed the bill, appropriating $22,500 additional annually for Bowling Green and Richmond Normal schools, and $30,000 for the State university.

The good roads bill, providing for an expert inspector of roads to be appointed by the agricultural commissioner, passed the senate.

The house passed the bill, providing pensions for Confederate veterans.

County Unit Killed.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 18.—The local option election fight switched to the senate, and after a parliamentary fight that waxed exceedingly warm the Watkins county unit local option bill and its twin brother, the Vice bill, were both put to sleep for the rest of the session, but the manner of killing each bill differed widely.

While the Vice bill was put to sleep by an unfavorable report of the committee, the "dry" forces took another tack to save the Watkins bill, and for over two hours they made things very uncomfortable for the opponents of the county unit measures, the time being interspersed with brilliant oratorical flights and parliamentary parries.

However, in the end the Watkins bill was also killed, but by the close margin of 18 to 16, overruling President Cox, who had ordered the bill placed in the order of the day, after being called from the committee under a constitutional privilege by a member, Senator Thomas.

The opponents of the local option bills were in high feather after effectually disposing of both these troublesome measures in one day. It is not expected that they will "bother" again in the upper branch during this session.

When the Vice bill was reported without expression of opinion by the committee on religion and morals, through its chairman, Senator Thomas A. Combs, of Lexington, President Cox ruled that under the rules of the senate it was indefinitely postponed for the rest of the session and could not be taken up again.

At this juncture, and before Senator Combs could make a report on the Watkins bill, identical in its provisions with the Vice bill, Senator C. M. Thomas, of Bourbon county, invoked the provision of the constitution giving any senator the right to call a bill from the hands of a committee after the bill had been in its hands a "reasonable" time, and he insisted that the bill be called out and placed in the order of the day.

This provoked a heated discussion, senators taking sides and indulging in constitutional arguments on the question at issue. President Cox acknowledged he was in doubt about the matter and sent for an opinion from the attorney general, but before this arrived he said he had been won over by the argument of Senator J. A. Donaldson, of Carroll county, a supporter of the local option measures, and ruled that the bill was called out and took its place in the order of the day.

An appeal was then taken by Senator Combs and more discussion followed, which grew very acrimonious. For a time the proceedings got badly tangled, about a dozen drafts being made of the appeal before one was gotten up to suit President Cox, who declared they did not state his position correctly.

Senator Combs then appealed from the decision of President Cox. Pending the vote President Cox surrendered the chair to President Pro Tem, Conn Linn.

Senator Newcomb, of Louisville, made a brilliant argument against the ruling of President Cox. He said that if the chair was sustained, it would mean the rout of the standing committees and make them a useless adjunct of the senate. The vote on the appeal from the decision of the chair resulted 18 to 16 against the bill.

Ben Tillman is Critically Ill With Paralysis

Washington, Feb. 18.—The condition of Senator Tillman, of South Carolina, is reported this afternoon to be most serious. He has been unconscious the greater part of the day and grave fears are entertained for his recovery. At his home here he is suffering partial paralysis, caused by a slight leakage of blood in the brain from arteries, weakening by calcification.

WASHINGTON DAY

WILL BE APPROPRIATELY CELEBRATED HERE.

The Schools Will Have Exercises and Close February
22.

Washington's birthday will be observed generally in Paducah next Tuesday, as the birthday of the father of his country is a state holiday. Aside from the observance of the day by a cessation of business, the day is a holiday for the school children and will be observed at nearly all the school buildings. The most elaborate celebration will be held at the Whittier school, where the pupils will raise the large American flag that was won in the civic improvement contest for having the prettiest school yard.

Owing to the fact that the school was without a flag staff it was impossible to raise the flag, but at the last meeting of the school board the request of Professor H. L. Donovan was granted by the board and Trustee William Karnes had the staff erected this week. The program preceding the flag raising will be held in the North Twelfth Street Baptist church, which is opposite the school, because of the larger seating capacity. There will be songs and recitations by the pupils, while Hon. Charles K. Wheeler will deliver an oration appropriate for the flag raising. The program will be held at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

All of the school buildings a number of programs have been planned. As the schools will be dismissed on Tuesday the program will be held on Monday afternoon. Nearly all of the entertainments will be informal.

In the business world the day is observed as closely as any of the holidays. All of the banks will be closed, the postoffice will be open only a short time and the letter carriers will make only one delivery.

president's ruling. The vote was as follows:

For the Decision—Beard, Bertram, Gus Brown, R. B. Brown, A. R. Burman, Curran, Donaldson, Graham, Grigsby, Jarvis, Oliver, Pritchard, H. H. Smith, J. T. Smith, Thomas and Vice, Total, 16.

Against the Decision—L. W. Arnett, Bosworth, Catlett, Chipman, Combs, Dowling, Eaton, Hogg, Hubble, Linn, Mathers, Nagel, Newcomb, Ryan, E. M. Taylor, G. A. Taylor, Wright and Wyatt, Total, 18.

This action effectually kills the bill for the rest of the session.

President Pro Tem, Linn put the appeal and the senate refused to uphold the decision of President Cox by a vote of 18 to 16.

The Session.

Senator Eaton asked the senate to set aside the regular order of business in order to allow reports of standing committees, reading and reference of bills, and consideration of bills which have been made special orders. This was unanimously

LEXINGTON GIVES UP ON COMMISSION PLAN FOR CITIES

No One Urged it at Meeting of Mayors at Frankfort, Ky.

Other Second Class City Bills Approved.

INCLUDES ASSESSMENT BONDS.

Lexington, Ky., Feb. 18, (Special).—Owing to an inability to arouse any interest in the matter, it is believed the plan for the government of second class cities by commission will be dropped at the present session. The meeting to be held here proved a fizzle.

Other Bills Endorsed.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 18.—Pursuant to the request sent out by Mayor John Skaln several days ago, the mayors of the cities of the Second class and other representatives were present at the conference which was a formal one, and held in Representative W. F. Klair's room at the Capital hotel in Frankfort.

Among those present at the meeting were Mayor John Craig, City Solicitor Sheppard, Senator L. W. Arnett and Representative Price, of Covington; Senator Nagel, of Newport, representing the mayor of that city; Representative Graves, Mayor J. H. Polsgrove, of Frankfort; Mayor Skaln, Senator Thomas A. Combs, Representative William F. Klair, Judge Malt Walton, City Solicitor Allen, City Attorney Wallace Muir, Superintendent of public Works W. M. Bateman, and Attorney Bailey D. Berry, all of Lexington.

Mayor Craig, of Covington, was selected as chairman of the conference and Senator Nagel, secretary. All the bills for the benefit of cities of the Second class were generally discussed and unanimously recommended for passage at the present session of the legislature.

The bills favorably recommended were as follows:

Senate bill, No. 264, relating to the control and improvement of streets, sewers, etc.

Senate bill, No. 245, known as the bond issue bill.

Senate bill, No. 302, authorizing the creation of a commission to control the construction of all streets.

Senate bill, No. 290, regulating the cost of collecting delinquent taxes by suit.

Indian Revolution.

Allahabad, India, Feb. 18.—Jagdalpur is today the center of one of the most serious Indian revolutions of recent years. Thousands of natives are said to be involved and a small loyal population, including a few Europeans is in danger. There are only 120 police available. The government is hastening troops to the scene, but it is doubtful whether they can arrive before an outbreak. It is believed to be the result of an uprising in the Bastar state, in suppression of which the authorities have made little headway.

LOCKSMITH FINDS NO VOICES INSIDE VAULT

The vault in the office of Ira Byerly is in working order again as after several days work Charles A. Flske, the locksmith, has repaired the combination. The combination was thrown out of gear by Nick Shuter, who imagined he heard voices inside of the strong box. It was necessary to dig through the wall of the vault, remove the lock, and then take the mechanism apart and put it together again.

Committee Defers Trip

On account of the bad weather the special committee of the general council, appointed to make a tour of the suburbs with City Engineer L. A. Washington and pick out ground to be annexed to the city, has postponed the trip until better weather. Mr. Washington is ready at any time to accompany the committee. Immediate steps will be taken by the council to annex more territory to the city and will take in the most thickly populated sections just outside the present limits.

OLLIE JAMES HAS NO OPPOSITION THIS YEAR

ANOTHER TRIAL

RESOLUTION ON INCOME TAX LACKS FOUNDATION.

Conformity With National Act Is Necessary—The Official Notification.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 18.—Because the legislature of Kentucky adopted a resolution declaring in favor of a national income tax before the question was presented to the general assembly in proper form, the work will have to be done all over again. If the general assembly favors an income tax to be imposed by the national government.

In the opinion of the governor and his legal advisers the general assembly could not legally indorse the income tax amendment, so as to make it binding and effective, until after he had transmitted to them a copy of the resolution adopted by the national congress. In the opinion of the governor, who has investigated the matter carefully, the income tax resolution, which has been adopted by both houses twice, will now have to go back and be put through for the third time. Certain forms were required in order to make the action of the state legislature binding and these forms were not regarded in Kentucky.

The law, as the governor construes
 it, is that the governor of a state must transmit to the legislature of that state the official copy of the joint resolution of congress authorizing a vote on the constitutional amendment and then the legislature can approve or disapprove the amendment proposed. Governor Willson takes the position that the first resolution offered, adopting the constitutional amendment, was not properly drawn and should have followed the exact wording laid down by the resolution of congress. Failing to do this, he holds that the action already taken, even though taken twice, indorsing the income tax, is void and another resolution must be passed to put Kentucky in line for the constitutional amendment.

The governor transmitted to the legislature the official copy of the resolution of congress, as is required by law and action can now be taken, accepting or rejecting the constitutional amendment.

N. Y. ASSEMBLY GRAFT EXPOSED

CONGER SAYS ALIDS DEMANDED
 HIS PORTION OF SWAG.

Senator Tells of Contributions He Made to Fund, Both Individually and for American Bridge Co.

HOW $4,000 WAS DISTRIBUTED

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 18.—Limitations upon the investigation into the alleged corrupt use of money in the legislature nine years ago disappeared today as the senate inquiry relative to the charge of Senator Benn Conger against Senator Jotham P.
 Alids progressed. Yesterday the name of a deceased assemblyman, Jean L. Burnett was brought into the case by Senator Conger's testimony that Burnett was one of whom an envelope alleged to contain money was addressed in the division in which Alids is said to have shared;
 and Conger also stated that Louis P.
 Bedell, at the time an assemblyman from New York county, discussed the then pending bridge building bill with him.

When Senator Conger came back to the stand at the resumption of the investigation today, he again insisted that he had a talk with Mr.
 Burnett regarding amendments to the Stevens bill, saying Burnett had a memorandum of the proposed amendments.

"Who put the amendments in the bill?"

"I don't know."

The witness was questioned then about his conversation with Alids.
 He said nobody else was present.

More Like Blackmail.

Conger was asked to repeat the conversation and for the third time since the investigation began the senate heard Alids' alleged warning that "you better get the American Bridge people up here."

Conger was made to rehearse what he says transpired between his brother Frank, vice-president of the American Bridge company, and Alids
 when the latter called at Senator Conger's apartments here to discuss terms. The witness said he did not make any objection to the payment of money for the purpose referred to.

"The conversation was on the subject of bribery wasn't it?" asked Carr.

"I considered it more blackmail than bribery," declared Conger, with the first show of resentment he had made during the morning.

Mr. Carr objected to this answer and the chairman refused to let it stand on the record.

Wouldn't Handle Money.

"You understood, Mr. Alids as a member of the legislature had promised to receive a certain sum for his action on legislation and you didn't consider it bribery?"

"I considered it blackmail," insisted the witness.

"When Carr demanded a categorical answer, Conger finally replied:

"No, sir."

"I told my brother," said Conger further along in the examination, "that I did not want anything to do with the handling of the money because I was a legislator and it was to be paid to a legislator."

Conger's attorneys objected to the chairman's refusal to allow Conger to say that he considered the payment blackmail, to stand.

Judge Van Wyck contended that to make a demand for money was

A FRIENDLY GROCER

Dropped a Valuable Hint About Coffee.

"For about eight years," writes a Mich. woman, "I suffered from nervousness—part of the time down in bed with nervous prostration."

"Sometimes I would get numb and it would be almost impossible for me to speak for a spell. At other times I would have severe bilious attacks, and my heart would flutter painfully when I would walk fast, or sweep."

"I have taken enough medicine to start a small drug store. Without any benefit. One evening my grocer was asking husband how I was and urged that I quit coffee and use Postum;
 so he brought home a pk. and I made it according to directions and we were both delighted with it."

"So we quit coffee altogether and used only Postum. I began to get better in a month's time and look like another person, the color came back to my cheeks, I began to sleep well, my appetite was good and I commenced to take on flesh and become interested in everything about the house."

"Finally I was able to do all my own work without the least sign of my old trouble. I am so thankful for the little book, 'The Road to Wellville.' It has done me so much good,
 I haven't taken medicine of any kind for six months and don't need any."

"A friend of ours who did not like Postum as she made it, liked mine, and when she learned to boil it long enough, her's was as good as mine.
 It's easy if you follow directions."

Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

blackmail, but to meet a demand by giving money was not bribery.

How $6,000 Divided.

"Wasn't the money brought here
 for that purpose?" pursued Carr.

"Yes," admitted Conger.

Conger confirmed Hiram G. Moe's statement that the senator had instructed Moe how to divide the $6-000 sent by his brother Frank for the bridge company and told him the names to write on the envelopes.

Carr made the witness describe in detail his alleged trip with Moe to the capitol on April 25, 1909, to distribute the money.

"You knew for what purpose the money was given, didn't you?" he asked.

"I did," said Conger.

Made Campaign Gift.

Conger testified that he met Col.
 Geo. A. Dunn, chairman of the Republican state committee in 1902 in Albany, at the office of the state board of railroad commissioners and made a contribution to the state campaign fund.

"Individually or for the bridge companies?"

"Both," answered Conger.

Advised by his attorney to answer, Conger said that those companies contributed to the fund raised in 1903 with reference to legislation.

"The United Construction company of Baltimore; the Pennsylvania Bridge company, of Denver Falls;
 the Rochester Bridge company, the Canton Bridge company, the Oswego Bridge company and the droton bridge company."

"What was the aggregate amount?" asked Carr.

"Five thousand dollars,"

Conger said.

"A demand was made by certain people in Albany for a fund of $10-000 to 'protect certain legislation.'"

At a meeting of the companies in Syracuse we decided we could not be blackmailed and we would not pay it."

Here there was a long pause, dur-senators again laughed.

"Let each senator vote as his con-

For two hours the senate listened to the discussion of the bill authorizing the issuance of $30,000,000 worth of certificates of indebtedness for the completion of irrigation projects already begun. It was stated that in a number of cases reservoirs were com-not constructed. It was argued that money will all be repaid by the pettler and in reality the treasury will be unaffected. The bill was not acted at adjournment.

"DIRECTS" WIN GREAT VICTORY

ILLINOIS HOUSE PASSED GIBSON NOMINATION BILL

Without a Struggle Then Went Through Formality of Concurring in Main Primary Bill

APPROVING THE AMENDMENTS

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 18.—Forty-six Republicans and forty-three Democrats passed the Gibson legislative nomination bill over which yesterday's bitter fight was fought. Today's victory for the "directs" on this measure was followed immediately by another when the house, without a struggle, went through the formality of concurring in the main direct plurality primary bill and approving the senate amendments.

All that is left, therefore, to put the two companion direct plurality primary bills up to Governor Denen for his signature and to make them law, is for the senate to concur in the house amendments to the Gibson bill. This will be done, as the amendments are of minor importance.

The Gibson bill was passed by a vote of 59 to 41, and the main bill and amendments were concurred in by a vote of 94 to 28, the latter vote being of little importance, however, as it was a sort of "band wagon" proposition with feeble interference.

The roll call by which the Gibson bill was passed was as follows:

Yeas. Republican—Abney, Apmadoc, Bardell, Black, Brady, Burgett, Buits, Campbell, Durfee, Flagg, Finton, Grace, Gray, Hagan, Hamilton, Democrat—Adkins, Beck, Behrens, Busch, Carter, Chipperfield, Crawford, Curran, Erby, Erickson, Flannigan, Gillespie, Glade, Hope, Ireland, Kleiman, Lane, Marcy, McMichols, Parker, Pierson, Price, Shanahan, Smejkal, Solitt, Tryer, Zinger, Zipf, Shurtless—29.

Democrat—Abrahams, Allison, Brown, Dewart, Espy, Foster, Goshkewich, Griffen, McMillon, Murray, Verdell, R. Wilson—12. Total 41.

Absent or not voting—Republicans—Brownback, Cliffe, Dudgeon, Fieldstack, Kittleman, Lederer, Logan, McMuekin, Nelson, Reynolds, Schumacher, Stearns—13.

Democrat—Corcoran, Danahoe, Hilton, Canally, Lantz, Murphy, E. L. Shaw, White—8. Total 21.

Democrat—Hated.

Gov. Denen who has been up early and late during the past few days was especially elated over the passage of the bills. To have it in readiness in case of an opportunity, thrown called up senate bill No. 41, the direct plurality primary bill passed by the senate, and which included the "blanket ballot." This bill was previously ignored by the house committee.

It was today advanced to second reading without reference, after a little struggle.

Both the house and senate will convene next Wednesday, when the deep waterway legislation will be taken up by the house. Senator Lorimer and Lyman E. Cooley are to be here to elucidate their water way ideas. A conference committee will be named by both the house and senate next week to consider the commission form of municipal government legislation. The house has ignored the bills affecting cities with boards of election commissioners, of which Cairo is one. Representative Flannigan sought to get the elections committee together yesterday, but the members wanted to get home. He has promised a meeting for next Wednesday, but friends of the legislation fear the session will close abruptly and leave their legislation in the hole.

Long Fight Ends.

Springfield, Feb. 18.—The long fight of the special session of the legislature over primary legislation ended in the house today with a sweeping victory for direct plurality primaries.

Forty-six Republicans and forty-three Democrats passed the Gibson legislative nomination bill over

The governor is elated over the passage of both bills.

Long Fight Ends.

Springfield, Feb. 18.—The long fight of the special session of the legislature over primary legislation ended in the house today with a sweeping victory for direct plurality primaries.

Forty-six Republicans and forty-three Democrats passed the Gibson legislative nomination bill over which yesterday's bitter fight was fought. There were 41 negative votes. The house then concurred in the main direct plurality primary bill and the senate amendments by a vote of 94 to 28. All that is left before submitting the two companion direct plurality primary bills to the governor for his signature is for the senate to concur in the minor house amendments to the Gibson bill. The governor is elated over the passage of both bills.

Gov. Denen who has been up early and late during the past few days was especially elated over the passage of the bills. To have it in readiness in case of an opportunity, thrown called up senate bill No. 41, the direct plurality primary bill passed by the senate, and which included the "blanket ballot." This bill was previously ignored by the house committee.

It was today advanced to second reading without reference, after a little struggle.

Both the house and senate will convene next Wednesday, when the deep waterway legislation will be taken up by the house. Senator Lorimer and Lyman E. Cooley are to be here to elucidate their water way ideas. A conference committee will be named by both the house and senate next week to consider the commission form of municipal government legislation. The house has ignored the bills affecting cities with boards of election commissioners, of which Cairo is one. Representative Flannigan sought to get the elections committee together yesterday, but the members wanted to get home. He has promised a meeting for next Wednesday, but friends of the legislation fear the session will close abruptly and leave their legislation in the hole.

Then welcome each rebuff

But go;

Never grudge the throe.

FEDERAL CONTROL NECESSARY.

The Memphis News-Sentinel, a thorough-going Democratic paper, but one of a number to turn their backs on the old theory of state rights, and face toward the inevitable alternative of federal control of private enterprise or private control of federal enterprise. The News-Sentinel says: "Centralization of power in the government and centralization of private power in commerce are directions to which we are tending. It is futile to assume that we can avoid both. The thing is to select that one that is preferable. One is a check to the other. Centralization of power is the natural tendency because centralization of power affords opportunity for efficiency and economy when properly employed. Destiny aims at the highest economy and assumes the possibilities of ultimate perfection in all things. We will make head toward honest and capable government that uses and not abuses power quite as rapidly as we will make head toward the control of private greed. It is futile to assume that we can avoid both—public government, power or private power. Our aim should be to work courageously toward the highest and safest economy and efficiency. If we do not, others will who understand better the great program of things and we will be run over in the race for excellence. Destiny has no consideration for lagards or unbelievers in her. In a country of universal suffrage and secret ballot the people can make quickly as good government as they are and are entitled to. They can and will take what they need and are capable of, of real liberty. The juggernaut of progress is moving rapidly, and men must move on and up or be run over. If by chance, things should get very bad, that only presages their getting very good."

THE MIZZURIANS.

Senator Stone, of Missouri, proved his own unfitness to represent that commonwealth in the national upper house, by his flat "lay down," when Governor Hadley sprung the "show me" shibboleth on the astute old politician. "Absurd," commented Bill; but that is hardly satisfactory under the circumstances. The senator and the governor have been in a "he-teller" controversy over the honesty of Senator Bill's election. Hadley declared Folk received more votes in the Democratic primary than Bill Stone did, and told how he thought Stone worked the deal.

Stone said the charge was false, and that, if he had not received the most votes, he would not want to hold the office. Then Hadley proposed to recount all the ballots, it being understood that if Folk was found to have received the most votes, Stone was to resign. Folk agreed, but Stone said it was "absurd"—and maybe it was.

Some Stories Around the Town.

Did you know that Paducah soda fountains do a mail order business? Sounds rather funny to say a soda fountain could do a mail order business, doesn't it?

Well, Mr. Sam Edwards, the popular dispenser at Wilson's says that is what he calls telephone orders for soft drinks.

"Business over the counter has been very dull today, on account of the snow," he said Thursday afternoon, and the snow was coming down in huge flakes, "but, dispensing has gone on uninterruptedly, as Paducah folk must have their drinks, cold or hot weather, fair or bad days."

"But how do you do business?" was asked.

"Over the phone," he said. "That phone has been busy, and so have three boys carrying out the drinks ordered today. Really, on some days like this, we do almost as much business as we would if it was a fair day. You see, few people come down to shop and the clerks are idle, and what more natural than that they should want their favorite drink several times a day? We are perfectly willing to send it to them, too, as we are having no counter business, and have the clerks here idle, too."

Revenue Agents.

Louville, Covington and Lexington, where much hidden wealth is safely tucked away from the assessor, are all strong for the repeal of the law creating revenue agents. Senator Newcomb, of the first named city, denounced this law as "vicious." It is well to remember, however, that the senator represents 334 constituents, who have been recently sued for taxes, which it is charged, they haven't paid. Our prediction is that when these cases are finally disposed of that the record will show that at least 833 of them have been compelled to pay. The repeal of this law will destroy the only agency by which such taxes can be, or ever have been, collected, and will provide exemption from taxation to the owners of this hidden wealth. In plain English, this is the design, and will be the effect, of the repeal of this law.—Kentucky State Journal.

SMOKE CONSUMER AND FAST HEATER

INVENTED BY C. H. WILSON,
MARINE ENGINEER.

Paducah Man Has Fuel Saver in His Newly Patented Boiler Device.

WORK OF QUARTER CENTURY.

After 25 years of constant work and study, Charles H. Wilson, 51 years old, of Paducah, a former marine engineer, has perfected a steam boiler, furnace and fuel saver that he claims will bring him a small fortune. This morning he received his patent from Washington, D. C., and his hope of a quarter of a century has been realized. He is probably the happiest man in Paducah.

The beginning of the patent date back years ago when he was chief engineer on the steamboat Richmond plying between Cincinnati and New Orleans. For just one part of the patent Mr. Wilson says he was recently offered $15,000 by a New York firm, and also offered $10,000 by a firm in San Francisco for exclusive use of it on the Pacific coast. "I will not sell any part of it," he said today. The patent has been added to year after year with improvements of his own study and will revolutionize boiler furnaces throughout the United States.

The patent furnace has the following features: Elevated grate bars at the front of the furnace raised several inches higher at the end than in front; a combustion chamber in which the smoke is consumed by the fire, and an ash slant to the rear; a combustion wall at the rear breaking the smoke into fifteen sections before passing to the flues. It is a wonderful improvement and fuel saver. Fully 30 per cent of the fuel burned in other furnaces is saved. The combustion wall at the rear of the furnace checks the heat and throws it directly against the boiler so that by the time the smoke gets to the smoke box it is perfectly cool. In old furnaces the smoke on reaching the smoke box is red hot. Mr. Wilson claims anyone can sit in the smoke box with 60 pounds of steam in the boiler. It is always cool there he claims.

Another feature of his patent is the fact that steam can be raised in 25 minutes and the boiler will keep up steam from Saturday night until Monday morning. The inventor claims that if he sold any part of the patent the rest would be of no use to him. He hopes to realize between $40,000 and $50,000 from the invention.

All the Paducah public school buildings are equipped with the new patent, known as Wilson's Steam Boiler, Furnace and Fuel Saver. He says the boilers are installed in other buildings here, making a total number of about fifteen. One was installed in the People's Roller mills at Golconda, Ill., and a letter received from Manager James E. Lane says that before the new boiler was installed 75 bushels of coal were used per day. With the invention the fuel supply has been reduced to 20 bushels a day. One is in use at the Kewell (Ky.) Milling company.

Mr. Wilson is extremely hard of hearing, but displayed his drawings with pride. He formerly worked for the Jackson Foundry and Machine company and is well known in the city.

agreed to and the committees were called.

The public monuments committee reported favorably the bill appropriating $5,000 for a Jefferson Davis memorial in Todd and Christian counties.

The public building committee reported favorably the bill to establish a state law school in the old capitol at Frankfort, with a substitute naming a board of trustees as follows: H. L. Irwin, T. L. Eden, E. H. Hume, J. C. W. Heckham, J. H. Hazelrigg, H. V. McChesney, W. W. Patterson, Lewis McQuown, all of Frankfort.

The bill establishing a state medical college in connection with the Kentucky University was reported favorably.

Senate bill, No. 23, to allow consolidation of life and fire insurance companies, and bill, No. 56, requiring the application to be attached to all life policies, were reported favorably by the insurance committee. They went into the orders of the day, but it will take a two-thirds vote to bring them up.

The bill granting pensions to indigent, disabled Confederate soldiers was reported favorably by the charitable institution committee.

The appropriations committee reported unfavorably the Combs bill, making an appropriation for a branch state fair at Lexington.

The same committee reported unfavorably the appropriation for the state fair at Louisville and increasing the salary of the commissioner of agriculture. The committee reported favorably an appropriation of $50,000 to complete the state cap-

A DEAD STOMACH

Of What Use Is It?

Thousands? yes hundreds of thousands of people throughout America are taking the slow death treatment daily.

They are murdering their stomach, the best friend they have, and in their sublime ignorance they think they are putting aside the laws of nature.

This is no sensational statement; it is a startling fact, the truth of which any honorable physician will not deny.

These thousands of people are swallowing daily huge quantities of peeps and other strong digesters, made especially to digest the food in the stomach without any aid at all from the digestive membrane of the stomach.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets relieve distressed stomach in five minutes; they do more. Taken regularly for a few weeks they build up the run down stomach and make it strong enough to digest its own food. Then indigestion, belching, sour stomach and headache will go.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets are sold by druggists everywhere and by Gilbert's drug store, who guarantee them. 50 cents a box.

The Rule Invoked Again.

The telephone and telegraph committee reported against the Newcomb telephone regulation bill, with a minority report favoring it.

The majority report was signed by Senators Linn, Catlett, Chipman, Newcomb and E. M. Taylor. The minority report was signed by Combs and Wyatt. The committee expresses the belief that "the overwhelming majority of the people of Kentucky are in favor of this bill, and that it affords the only relief to a present intolerable condition and the prevention of greater abuses."

Senator Newcomb moved that the minority report be substituted for the majority report.

Senator Linn raised the point that this was a change of the rules.

Cox's Ruling.

"I will rule that this minority report can be substituted for the majority report, and that if the minority report is adopted the bill will take its place in the order of the day to be regularly considered," declared President Cox.

Senator Newcomb, in response to the statement from Calloway, said that here is undoubtedly "an opening" in the rules which Senator Linn evidently overlooked in drafting the rules. Senator Hurnam called for the reading of the Newcomb bill, saying he desired to vote intelligently on the committee reports.

Mr. Linn was willing to give up without a struggle, relying on the voted rule 48 of the standing rules, requiring two-thirds to get up an unfavorable reported bill. He declared it was an indirect way of getting around the rules. He pleaded with the senate to stand by its committee on rules, because of its importance in the laws of the session. He urged that a majority vote cannot place the bill in a position where the senate can vote upon it.

"The chair's head is clear on this proposition. There has been no

HELPFUL HINTS

ON HAIR HEALTH
Scalp and Hair Troubles Generally Caused by Carelessness.

Dandruff is a contagious disease caused by a microbe which also produces blindness. Never use a comb or brush belonging to some one else. No matter how cleanly the owner may be, these articles may be infected with microbes, which will catch your scalp. It is far easier to catch hair microbes than it is to get rid of them, and a single stroke of an infected comb or brush may well lead to baldness. Never try on anybody else's hat. Many a husband has a resting place for microbes.

If you happen to be troubled with dandruff, itching scalp, falling hair or baldness, we have a remedy which we believe will completely relieve these troubles. We are so sure of this that we offer it to you with the understanding that it will cost you nothing for the trial if it does not produce the results we claim. This remedy is called Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We honestly believe it to be the most scientific remedy for scalp and hair troubles, and we know of nothing else that equals it for effectiveness, because of its results it has produced in thousands of cases.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is devised to banish dandruff, restore natural color when its loss has been brought about by disease, and make the hair naturally silky, soft and glossy. It does this because it stimulates the hair follicles, destroys the germ matter, and brings about a free, healthy circulation of blood, which nourishes the hair roots, causing them to tighten and grow new hair. We want everybody who has any trouble with hair or scalp to know that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is the best hair tonic and restorative in existence, and no one should scoff at or doubt its statement until they have put our claims to a fair test, with the understanding that they pay us nothing for the remedy if it does not give full and complete satisfaction in every particular. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Paducah only at our store—The Rexall Store, W. B. McPherson, 425 Broad way.

much 'whipping the devil around the stump' in these rules that it is often hard to tell what they do mean. I am satisfied if the gentleman of the rules committee had thought a minority report would ever be presented, they would have taken care of it."

Cox Is Sustained.

Senator Eaton spoke briefly, upholding the decision of the chair.

Senator B. M. Arnett, of Jessamine, took the side of Senator Linn, and urged the senate to uphold the rules and sustain the committee on rules and declare for the two-thirds point on unfavorably reported bills. He pleaded to sustain him.

The roll was called and the senate, by a vote of 18 to 16, adopted the minority report and sustained President Cox in his ruling.

It. M. Arnett immediately tried to get reconsideration, but by a vote of 18 to 16 the senate clinched the favorable report of the minority.

Sensors Linn and Newcomb were very active in trying to get members to change their votes and sustain him. Senators Combs and Wyatt, who signed the minority report, voted against adopting their own report, and stood with Senator Linn.

Seeing the position the liquor forces had gotten into, Senator Combs reported, without expression of opinion, the Vice county unit bill. Effth 4th. "Imp'mv'l. loyo, p u e

Senator Thomas sent up a resolution that the bill be advanced regardless of the report.

"It will take a two-thirds vote," said Governor Cox.

A roll call was demanded on the question of advancing. It was defeated 16 to 14, and was declared lost.

Fight Over the Rules.

Sensors Thomas and Combs each demanded recognition. Thomas was recognized.

"I desire now to call from the Religion and morals committee senate bill 44, the second county unit bill, offered by Watkins," said Senator Thomas. "The constitution gives me the right, and I now call from the committee this bill and ask that it be put on its passage."

"I will decide that to call this bill from the committee will require a majority report," ruled Governor Cox. "It has been in the hands of the committee since February 1, and has been there a reasonable time."

Senator Linn endeavored to take Thomas off the floor and put Combs up to report unfavorably the Watkins bill.

Thomas attacked the rules. "You voted for them," put in Combs.

"Yes, but I did not know what was in them when I did it," said Thomas.

Cox Makes Ruling.

"The chair will rule that when you call this bill from the committee you get it from the committee without a report upon it, and by your rules it is indefinitely postponed, if not favorably reported," ruled Governor Cox.

Senator Thomas questioned the justice of the ruling of the chair, and announced that he would appeal from his decision.

Senator Hurnam declared the president of the senate had fallen in error. He denied that it takes a majority of the senate to call a bill from committee, urging that the constitution guarantees to any senator the right to call out a bill from a committee endeavoring to stifle it.

He urged that the bill, when called, would, under the constitution, go into the orders of the day for future consideration, and can be considered by a majority of the senate. He declared the rules void when they conflict with the constitution. He denounced the rules of the senate as supreme.

President Cox thanked Senator Hurnam for his utterances which, he said, enlightened him considerably on the subject.

Senator Newcomb expressed the belief that Hurnam was right in his position that any member can call a bill out, but then the bill becomes the property of the senate, and must be proceeded with under the rules. He said there was no escape from the two-thirds rule.

Senator Thomas followed, endorsing the position of Senator Hurnam. Senator Donaldson followed along the same line.

Senator Combs urged that to sustain their contention would make all committee work useless, as any senator could anticipate an unfavorable report and call his bill from committee.

Opinion From Attorney General.

Sensors Linn and Newcomb held a conference with Chairman Cox at the presiding officer's stand. Governor Cox announced that he had sent out for an opinion from Attorney General Breathitt on the point at issue.

"The chair wants to do what is right," said Governor Cox. "He has no ax to grind. He has no votes to lose. When his service here ends he does not intend to ask anything further of the people of Kentucky, reports to the contrary notwithstanding."

Senator Graham was recognized and urged the chair to follow the constitution and not the outrageous rules of the senate.

The chair desires to thank the senator from Carroll for his speech, as it enlightens the chair very much.

Cox Debates for Unit Men.

"The chair will decide that the senator from Bourbon has the right to call the bill from the committee and that when it is called the bill takes its place regularly in the orders of the day for consideration by the senate in the regular order of business.

"The chair may be wrong in his decision. He may have estimated that he would rule otherwise, earlier in this discussion, but the senator from Carroll enlightened him on the true meaning of the constitution, and he believes that he has decided right. The rules of the senate are a conglomeration out of which it is hard to get at the correct meaning of many of them, but we all know that the constitution is supreme, and we will follow it."

Liquor Lobby Active.

The decision of President Cox on the county unit bill was followed by a notable increase in the feverish activity of the liquor lobby, which had, all morning, been on the alert to take advantage of every possible opportunity to bolster up their cause.

Despite the fact that the house was in session, dozens of members left the chamber to join the crowd in the senate lobby. Among the latter there was heard wide commendation of the ruling of the chair. His frankness in admitting that he might have been wrong, but that the best any honest man could do, after having the constitution so clearly cited to him, would be to admit his wrong. This, President Cox said, probably was due to the fact that he is not a lawyer and unable to interpret the rules and constitution as clearly as an attorney.

Combs' Appeals.

The appeal of Senator Combs, signed by Senator Newcomb, from the appeal of the chair as to the latter's ruling on the time a bill should remain in the hands of the committee, and citing attention to rule 50, was read.

Senator Hurnam objected to the language of the appeal, holding that the point from which an appeal was taken was not included. The chair held that this appeal was, in effect, a resolution. Mr. Combs then sent up another appeal. Mr. Thomas made the point that this one was not strictly an appeal.

Still another appeal was then sent up, and the wording of it still was unsatisfactory to President Cox. He said he did not want to be contentious, but he thought the appeal should be specific, and not so general; that the ruling from which one appeal was taken should be stated specifically. Another appeal, signed by Senators Combs and Newcomb, was sent up.

Curton Knocks Out Appeal.

Senator Curton made a point of order against this appeal, and the chair sustained him. Senator Newcomb then withdrew this appeal.

At this time the house having adjourned, a majority of the members, together with a big majority of the state officers, with dozens of others, had gathered in the senate lobby. Still another appeal was sent up by Senators Combs and Newcomb, which caused another discussion. Senator Newcomb spoke at length.

He said that no matter whether the rules adopted by the senate were "sane or silly, rank or ridiculous," that, nevertheless, they were the rules. He said that he disagreed with Senator Donaldson. That the senate might adopt rules actually silly so long as they do not controvert the constitution. He said that if the senate defies the appeal that it destroyed itself as to the rules and committee. That the latter are clearing houses, and that if the appeal is rejected no more bills would go to or be acted upon by the committee.

Rules Unconstitutional.

President Cox interjected to say that he thought the section of one of the rules referred to unconstitutional. Senator Newcomb disagreed with him. He said that he admitted the right of Senator Thomas to call the bill up out of the committee, but said that he objected to a bill coming up so this way to make an acrobatic jump and land in the orders of the day. He said that the fate of every bill yet not finally acted upon rested on the decision on the appeal.

CHANGE IN THE TAX LAWS.

This was bill day in the house and, despite the slim chance of getting through any measures, introduced at this stage of the game, several were dumped into the hopper.

The house began proceedings by making a special order for 11 o'clock of the Stivers house bill 66, to make warehouse receipts by corporations negotiable and transferable.

Among the bills introduced were the following:

Zimmerman—To require railroads to provide all engines with electric headlights of 1,500 candle power.

Combs—Extending for life or during good behavior certificates of teachers who have taught 20 years or more.

Klair—Providing for the erection of separate hospitals for the care and isolation of tubercular patients at the state asylums and for new quarters for colored patients at the western and eastern asylums for the insane.

Combs—Fixing the salaries of members of the general assembly at $10 per day for each day of actual service.

Klair—Providing for a vote on the question of a commission form of government in cities of the second class.

Hines—Increasing the salary of the secretary of the state board of control of charitable institutions from $100 to $150 per month.

Turner—Providing for reapportionment of senatorial districts as recommended by the commission named by the governor.

CO-OPERATION IN RIVER WORK

STATES, CITIES AND CORPORATIONS JOIN MOVE.

Co-ordination of Scientific Services
With Engineer Corps in Deep Waterways Advocated.

NEWLANDS URGES MEASURE

Washington, Feb. 18.—Speaking in the senate in support of his amendment to the river and harbor bill providing for the co-operation of the scientific services of the country with the engineer corps of the army in framing plans for the full development and use of the inland waterways, Senator Newlands said that it was most desirable that not only the states, but municipalities and corporations, should co-operate with the national government in the matter. In the complicated nature of our government, national and state, the division of jurisdiction and power make it necessary, he said, that national and state sovereignties should co-operate in great constructive work. The power of the national government and its rights regarding the rivers of the country arose, he said, out of its sovereign power over navigation as a part of interstate and foreign commerce and out of its proprietary right over the public domain, and it could only do such work as was necessary or incidental to the exercise of this power and the right. "The co-operation of the states, municipalities, corporations and individuals is necessary to the full development of the rivers," said Mr. Newlands, "but the plans could be unhampered if the work was segregated, and it is of the highest importance that the law should provide for the executive department the machinery through which to bring about such co-operation."
"We would," he said, "thus end the needless discussion as to the varying jurisdictions of the states and the nation and would unite all, each acting within its jurisdiction and power, in great constructive work for the common good."

PROBE OF N. Y. 'CHANGE ENDS

MANDELBAUM OF NEW YORK,
EXCHANGE ATTACKS BILLS.

Washington, Feb. 18.—The investigation of the New York Cotton Exchange methods incident to the proposed legislation to abolish transactions in futures was concluded today before the house committee on agriculture. Former President Hubbard and I. Mandelbaum, of the exchange, were the witnesses.

Lamb and the Wool.

"You have all heard of the reports of a cotton duck trust!" exclaimed Mr. Mandelbaum. "Do you know that during the last five years three attempts have been made to combine all the southern mills, and today this very thing is going on, which, if successful, would leave the producers at the mercy of the spinner."

Mr. Mandelbaum said Representative Burleson had referred to the "hedging on 'change'" in such a way as to show that he either did not understand the question or did not want to understand it. He said the exchange business was a legal one that had stood the fire of the supreme court; that the Burleson bill before the committee contemplated no difference in how much a man buys, so long as he sold nothing, but the Scott bill he described as merely a little better and broader.

Wright Brothers Contend Their Patents Infringed Upon.

New York, Feb. 18.—A writ of temporary injunction against Louis Paulhan, the French aviator, who has been making numerous flights in this country, was granted by United States Circuit Court Judge Hand today on application of the Wright company, of Dayton, O., which manufactures and handles the inventions of the Wright brothers. Infringements of the Wright patents were alleged in the application for injunction.

In granting the restraining order, Judge Hand said that he did not consider it necessary to decide the question whether or not the Wright brothers were "the first to fly," as that was not an issue in the case.

He Will Probably Go to Louisville Soon After Easter—Love for His Old Charge.

Indianapolis, Feb. 18.—The Right Rev. Bishop Denis O'Donoghue, auxiliary bishop of Indianapolis, according to recent press dispatches from the Vatican at Rome, has been transferred from Indianapolis to Louisville, Ky., has received official notification of the change from Archbishop Falconio at Washington, D. C.

Archbishop Falconio is apostolic delegate to the United States from the Vatican at Rome. His communication merely stated that the change had been made. Bishop O'Donoghue said that he will probably go to Louisville soon after Easter.

DR. EDWARDS' OLIVE TABLETS

WILL MAKE YOU FEEL FINE.

Do you feel out of sorts?—Is your tongue coated, and your breath bad; do you feel nervous and chilly, like you have malaria? If you do your liver is out of order, your bowels and kidneys are not relieving the system of its poison. What you need is an effective laxative. One that will do the work of calomel, but leave none of calomel's bad after effects. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—one laxative tablet that does not contain calomel, yet does calomel's work. These little olive-oil and vegetable tablets are perfectly harmless and pleasant to take. They increase and thin the bile, overcome constipation and rid the system of its poison. Should you eat too much at a banquet or a late night meal, which always makes you feel stuffy and dull, just try one or two Olive Tablets before you retire and see how fine you feel next morning. They will do the work if you only let them. At all drug stores in 10c and 25c packages. The Olive Tablet Co., Portsmouth, O.

PROSPECTS FOR PRISON SCANDAL

CONDUCT OF EXAMINER THATCHER WILL BE SPOTLESS.

Removed That Election of Brown and McCutchen Was Result of Trade.

IT LOOKS LIKE DEAL WAS ON.

The Louisville Herald's Frankfort correspondent says:

Following the publication of the action of Senator E. M. Taylor in serving a subpoena duces tecum on Senator Hogg in reference to the prison query papers, there is an under current of talk to the effect that a scandal of more or less proportions may soon be sprung in that connection.

There is talk that will not down, and wise ones are shaking their heads as they listen to questions on the subject.

Thatcher Not Involved.

Whatever scandal may arise, however, over the alleged deal to elect the board of prison commissioners it cannot involve the office of the state inspector and examiner. He can show an absolute clean bill of health on the matter, and demonstrate beyond question to fair-minded people that he has been unremittingly assiduous in devotion to his task of preparing a thorough and searching report on the work of the commissioners and the condition of the penal institutions.

It is by no means certain that there have not been deals connected with the matter, however. It has yet to be explained why information placed in the hands of Senator Hogg by Mr. Thatcher some time ago failed to reach the legislature.

Ready to Spring.

That Senator Hogg was getting ready to spring it is the belief of many, and the action of Senator E. M. Taylor in serving a subpoena duces tecum in order to get possession of the papers possessed by his colleague is understood to have been an attempt to forestall any publicity.

Senator Hogg, however, is said to have had sufficient and fair reason for holding the papers.

But it may be as well to tell in detail what there is to be told about the circumstances, actual and supposed, that have centered about the prison commissioners and the still unpublished report of the state inspector and examiner.

Deal Was Suspected.

The re-election of two members of the board of prison commissioners, E. L. Brown and Harvey McCutchen, which was achieved with the consenting vote of the Republican members, started the tongues of gossip wagging.

A deal was suspected, and the passing of day after day without hearing anything from Mr. Thatcher as to the report upon which he had been at work for weeks before the session began, added color to the inferences which observers were quick to draw.

To Be Held Up.

It was said, and said freely, that a bargain had been struck by which the report, which common consent in Frankfort seems to think will be unfavorable to the present commission, was to be held up until after the election of prison commissioners had taken place, that the Republicans were to support the men who were incumbents at the opening of the session, and that in return certain proposed Democratic election, such as the bill to abolish the state board of control, was to be killed.

Activity Checked Talk.

The fact that Harvey McCutchen and E. L. Brown were so intimately concerned in the result of the vote

Prevent and Relieve Headache

"It gives me great pleasure to be able to refer to Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills as the best remedy we have yet had in our house for the prevention and cure of headache. My wife who has been a constant sufferer for a number of years with above complaint joins me in the hope that they may fall into the hands of all sufferers."

JOHN BUSH, Waterbury, Me.

Used Them Four Years.

"Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are the best I ever tried for the relief of headache. I have used them for nearly four years and they never fail to give me relief. I have tried many other remedies, but have never found any better."

JOSEPH FRANKOWICK, 854 Trembley Av., Detroit, Mich.

There is no remedy that will more quickly relieve any form of headache than

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills.

The best feature of this remarkable remedy is the fact that it does not derange the stomach or leave any disagreeable after-effects.

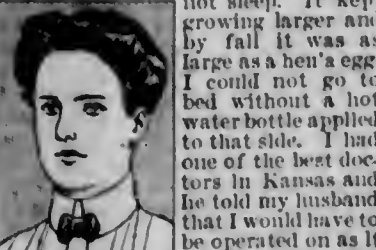

Druggists everywhere sell them. If not package, fails to benefit, your druggist will return your money.

DOCTOR ADVISED OPERATION

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Galena, Kans.—"A year ago last March I fell, and a few days after there was soreness in my right side. In a short time a lump came and it bothered me so much at night I could not sleep. It kept growing larger and by fall it was as large as a hen's egg. I could not go to bed without a hot water bottle applied to that side. I had one of the best doctors in Kansas and he told my husband that I would have to be operated on as it was something like a tumor caused by a rupture. I wrote to you for advice and you told me not to get discouraged but to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did take it and soon the lump in my side broke and passed away."—Mrs. R. H. HUXY, 713 Mineral Ave., Galena, Kans.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has proved to be the most successful remedy for curing the worst forms of female ills, including displacements, inflammation, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result has been worth millions to many suffering women.

If you want special advice write for it to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass. It is free and always helpful.

on prison commissioners, and at the same time are given credit for being prominent with Graham Vreeland and Sam Shackleford in the operations of the so-called third house, by which this present legislature is very largely influenced if not wholly controlled. In its action, strengthened the conviction that there was something beneath the surface.

Col. Jack Chinn has been straying from the reservation on the question of prison commissioners. He has a personal interest in it because his son was dismissed from a position in the Frankfort penitentiary, and is among those who have stories to tell about alleged cruelties and improprieties in the conduct of that institution.

Lobbyists Were Busy.

The colored is biased by this fact in his view of the situation but he has declared himself as convinced that there was a frame-up at the beginning of the session, and is not slow to say that certain prominent lobbyists, including a managing editor, had much to do with putting the arrangement over.

This managing editor, he alleges, had influence with the Republicans owing to assistance he is supposed to have given in the election of the junior United States senator from Kentucky.

This is one story. There is another that throws a vastly different light upon the situation. The truth is the report of M. H. Thatcher is not yet completed. It has been a vast undertaking. Mr. Thatcher has been merciless in pursuing his investigation to the very limit of competence.

He has gone back through years of records. He has taken testimony that in print will run over 1,000 pages of type. He has had to do this work practically without assistance in his department he is the only man who can administer an oath, and it has been necessary for him personally to get all the testimony of many witnesses.

Slept in Capitol.

This has been in addition to other multifarious duties, such as might well occupy the reasonably working hours of any one man. In order to complete his task before the close of the session Mr. Thatcher has been laboring often eighteen hours a day, often sleeping in the capitol building and taking all his meals there.

STEAMSHIP'S ICE SHEATH.

Ida Cunco Brings Solid Evidence of a Winter's Gale.

New York, Feb. 18.—Shattered in ice for 50 feet of her length, the steamship Ida Cunco arrived with a tale of watery weather. She left Port Antonio, Jamaica, on Feb. 2, with a cargo of bananas, and at the end of the week ran into rough seas. Early Sunday morning the weather was threatening, and at noon, according to Capt. Fritz Hof, the storm began in earnest. For 24 hours the Cunco pitched and tossed, making little headway. Toward evening, with seas breaking over her bows, the situation was becoming serious. About midnight a terrific sea came over the starboard rail and swept away the covering of the after steering gear, damaging the gear and bending iron stanchions. "We were in the vicinity of Capt. Hatteras when the storm hit us," said the captain. "Although considerably damaged was done to the woodwork on deck, no one was injured. When we ran into the intense cold yesterday the spray froze on the deck and led even the protection canvas on the upper bridge. The storm was the worst one that I have experienced in the trade to Port Antonio; but the staunchness of the little fruiter made us weather the gale with little damage."

GIRL IS VICTIM OF THIRD DEGREE

NEARLY KILLED BY BRUTAL METHODS OF POLICE.

Followed to Hospital—Officers Were Sore When Doctors Turned Them Down.

SHE MAY NOT RECOVER.

New York, Feb. 18.—In an effort to draw from Rosa Apporto, a girl of twenty, what she knew about the mysterious killing of Vincenzo Dominico, who was shot to death last night in front of 465 West Broadway, the police of the McDougall street station subjected her to such a grueling third degree for eight hours that she three times became insensible and had to be ministered to by surgeons, and finally was taken to St. Vincent's hospital in a serious condition.

Inquisitive members of Inspector McCafferty's staff even pursued the young woman to the hospital and were very indignant when they were turned away by the doctors, who informed them that the girl was in a dangerous state of collapse and would need the most careful treatment to bring her around. As it was, the surgeons said, the rigors of the third degree had just missed killing her.

Charles T. Rounheiler heard a man's voice shout, "Now, you dog, I've got you. You won't steal anything more from me," then he heard a shot and a heavy fall.

Presently a citizen dragged a young woman around the corner just as Captain O'Connor and the reserves were arriving from the McDougall street station. The citizen turned the woman over to the police and said he had caught her as she was fleeing after a man.

The young woman then caught sight of the body and shrieked. Drooping upon the pavement she took the dead man's head in her lap and moaned. The police could get nothing from her until she arrived at the station. There she said that she was Mrs. Rosa Apporto, twenty years old, the wife of Frank Apporto.

MAY BE HIS FATHER.
Holle Deserted Family 25 Years Ago—Patient Hooked Under His Name

New York, Feb. 18.—Under the impression that a dying patient in the Newark (N. J.) City hospital was his father, though he had never seen him, Louis Holle called at the institution yesterday. The patient was also Louis Holle, according to the nurse he gave when brought into the hospital. He had been found in the streets Thursday and told the surgeons he had taken rat poison with suicidal intent. At first he said he came from Holmesburg, Pa., but later he claimed a residence at No. 418 Morris avenue, Newark. Young Holle said his father had been separated from his mother from the time the son was born, twenty-five years ago. News of the wanderings of his father had reached him and his mother, the young man said, and they had learned that his father had been for several months last year in a Baltimore hospital. But there had never been any attempt at a reconciliation. The belief that the would-be suicide was his father was based upon the address the dying man had given, which is that of his wife. The patient was not in condition to recognize the visitor, and the reunion sought by the younger Holle may never take place.

SAGE FOR DARKENING THE HAIR.

There is nothing new about the idea of using sage for restoring the color of the hair. Our great grandmothers kept their locks soft, dark and glossy by using a "sage tea." Whenever their hair fell out or took on a dull, faded or streaked appearance, they made a brew of sage leaves and applied it to their hair with wonderfully beneficial effect. Nowadays we don't have to resort to the old-time, tiresome method of gathering the herbs and making the brew. This is done by skillful chemists better than we could do it ourselves, and all we have to do is to call for the ready made product, Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, containing sage in the proper strength, with the addition of Sulphur, another old-time scalp remedy. This preparation is sold by all first-class druggists for 50c and $1.00 a bottle, or is sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price. For sale and recommended by W. J. Gilbert.

NICK LONGWORTH IS VERY BASHFUL

AND KNOWS ALL WOMEN ARE LOOKING AT HIM.

Bald Spot Grows Red When He Arises to Address the Speaker.

ALICE ROOSEVELT'S HUSBAND.

Washington, Feb. 18.—(United Press.)—"Who is that nice looking baldheaded man?"
"That is Mr. Longworth."
"Oh, the Mr. Longworth? The Mr. Longworth that married Alice Roosevelt?"
"Oh, I'm so glad he's here today, for I did want to see him so much. But how baldheaded he is. Oh, goody, goody! I do believe he is going to speak!"

There was a craning of necks in the house gallery; an ecstatic chorus of "Ohs"; a rustling of silken skirts; and a broad grin or two exchanged by the guides that had the various tourists in tow.
The baldheaded man rose from his seat very abruptly, asked Speaker Cannon a parliamentary question, and sat down even more abruptly. In the brief moment that he was on his feet, his face became three degrees rosier than usual—"Nick" has a good healthy glow on his face ordinarily—and the blush mounted from his forehead to his bald spot and traveled all over the expansive clearing until it lost itself in the fringe of hair above the collar.

"Why, see how red he's getting on top of the head," cried one of the fair tourists.
"Is he as bashful as all that?" asked another.
"He's the most bashful man in the house," replied the human guide book. "He's so bashful that he blushes every time the clerk calls his name."
"Why?" demanded the young woman who had come all the way from New England and was bound to get her money's worth.
"Maybe he was born that way," said the guide. "Maybe it is because he knows that a crowd of good looking women are taking him in every time he gets up to speak."
"Nick's marriage to Miss Roosevelt mighty near put him to the bad as a member of this house," said one of Longworth's congressional colleagues. "Every time he gets up on his feet he feels as though every woman in the gallery had her finger on top of his head and was turning him round and round, as if he was on a pivot, to examine him. He is naturally an unassuming, diffident sort of a chap anyway, and all the notoriety he has got since his marriage to the daughter of the former president has simply had the effect of putting him in a perpetual panic. The result of it is that he never gets up on the floor unless he has to, and then drops down again as though he were hit by a brick as soon as he has had his little say. Nick has all kinds of good ideas and with his experience would make a valuable member if he were not so scared stiff. It is a pity that he can't have an umbrella or some other shield to hide the galleries from him when he wants to talk."

CHINA A PEACEFUL NATION
Its People Have Long Held Solitary in Contempt, but Are Changing.

Whereas in Japan the fighter was always honored and the knightly caste was predominant in the community, among the followers of Confucius, who was himself, above all else a man of peace, the profession of the soldier was for centuries held in such profound contempt that no intelligent Chinese holding a respectable position in society would think for a moment of permitting a son of his to embrace it.
It was accordingly recruited from the lower ranks and from among the least worthy of the Chinese people, and it is doubtless to this circumstance that the worthlessness of such armies as China until within the past few years has ever had, is largely attributable. Since the Pekin government learned by painful experience that a nation which is unable to protect itself, unable to sustain its dignity and to assert its rights, will not be respected by others, many steps have been taken to equip the nation for self-defense and perhaps no one of these is more significant than the issuance of an imperial edict whereby Chinese of the better class are admonished to dedicate their sons to a military career as a patriotic duty in order that there may be a sufficient number of Chinese to fill the places of command in the army under course of organization.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Gentlemen, you can draw your own conclusions.

AN ITCHING PALM
No Cure For It. Other Forms of Itching Preferable.

There is no cure for an itching palm—the money kind. Even possum, the new skin discovery, cannot help it. But when it comes to eczema, the most annoying of itching skin troubles, possum will stop the itching at once and cure the worst cases in a few days. So with hives, rash, scabies, split toes, piles, and scaly scalp, all of which are different forms of eczema, accompanied by severe itching and caused by imperfect digestion and careless diet.

Possum comes in two-dollar jars, but fifty cents' worth will answer in curing any of the diseases mentioned. It can be had of any druggist, Gilbert's and R. W. Walker Co.'s make a specialty of it.

That results are immediate will be amply demonstrated overnight by the use of the experimental sample which the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York City, will send free by mail, in plain wrapper, to any one who will write for it.

CHARGE COAL LAND FRAUD
Government Sues to Recover $543,000 For Illegal Mining.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 18.—Suits were filed in the federal court today against David C. Dodge, Geo. Foster Peabody, Geo. A. Kraus and Geo. Mellen as executors of the will of the late Geo. Wm. J. Palmer charging extensive coal land frauds. The action is in equity to recover $543,000, the value of 362,000 tons of coal. Attorney General Wickersham and Fred A. Maynard, assistant to the attorney general with headquarters at Salt Lake filed the complaints. It is alleged that between Jan. 1, 1899, and June 30, 1909, Peabody and Palmer mined coal on 1,293 acres of government land that had been illegally acquired. Gen. Palmer died March 13, 1909, at Colorado Springs.

A Church in a Rock.

In the quaint old German town of Oberstein an ancient church stands built in the great rock rising from the river. The front of the building is of stone, but the church itself is hollowed out of the rock and penetrates far into its heart. Tradition says that in the fourteenth century the Count of Oberstein, one of the old robber barons, fell deeply in love with a beautiful young lady, the daughter of a neighboring knight.

His brother, says the World-Wide Magazine, also sought the fair maiden's hand and the two suitors had a violent quarrel. The upshot was that the count flung his hapless brother from the top of his castle wall, high up the precipitous cliff. Repenting of his awful deed, the count vowed that he would build a church where his brother's body first touched the ground. He did so, excavating the church in the rocks; and tradition goes on to say a miraculous spring of clear water sprang from the crack as a token that heaven was appeased. This curious church is now the only Protestant place of worship in the town.

CORPORATION TAX IS DUE MARCH 1

MANY CONCERNS HAVE ALREADY REPORTED.

Others Will Not, as They Intend to Join in Fight Against It.

FEDERAL INTERNAL REVENUE

Have you paid your corporation tax yet? If not, it behooves you to do so in a very few days or stand liable for a penalty of anywhere from $1,000 to $10,000. March 1 is the time set by the new law for reporting.

Many Paducah corporations have already made out the necessary report and forwarded it to Lawson Reno, the collector for this district, at Owensboro, but there are a great many, too, who have not. In fact, inquiry develops the fact that some of the local corporations have received no blanks yet on which to make the report.

If you are in that list, it is wise to sit right down and write to Collector Reno for one, as the government will recognize no such excuses, it has been announced.

Some Paducah corporations are not going to file their reports, or pay the corporation tax. They have been advised by associations, of which they are members not to pay it, as legal steps have been taken by those associations, in different localities, to test the validity of the law. Especially is this true with members of the wholesale druggist associations, and some manufacturers' associations. But, one runs a great, big chance when he heeds such advice.

The Sun is in receipt of the enclosed circular from Lawson Reno, the collector at Owensboro, and gives it publicity for the benefit of its readers.

Corporations Must Report.

"Attention is again called to the provisions of section 38, of the act of August 5, 1909, requiring corporations, joint stock companies, associations, and insurance companies, subject to the special excise tax, therein imposed, to render returns of their gross and net income for the calendar year 1909, on or before March 1, 1910.

"It appears that some have the idea, if the net income does not amount to or exceed $5,000, no report is required. This is a mistake, as reports are required regardless of the amount of the net income.

"As the law imposes a penalty of from $1,000 to $10,000 for failure or neglect to render these returns on time, and in order to protect the taxpayer, as far as possible, I take this method of again calling attention to the importance of a prompt compliance with the provisions of the law."

ANOTHER NAME MENTIONED.

In the Legislative Bribery Investigation.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 18.—The same on another of "H" Moe's envelopes was spoken at the legislative bribery investigation. The matter of its revelation showed that the weight of the evidence descended alike upon Senator Ben Conger and Senator Alida, accuser and accused, and has driven them in desperation to distribute the blame. The name heard was that of Jean Burnett, once assemblyman from Ontario county, who died in Albany during the legislative session of 1907. The story Conger and Moore told last week is that $15,000 sent to Albany by the American Bridge company on April 23, 1901, was divided in three envelopes. Alida, they say, got the first envelope, $10,000. The second held $4,000 and the third $1,000. If Conger told the truth the third envelope was given to Burnett. The name on the second envelope of another man, who is dead, is expected as the next disclosure.

ELECTRICITY PLAYS PRANKS
Magnetic Disturbance Sweeps Across France—Wires Useless.

New York, Feb. 18.—Violent magnetic disturbances, the cause of which is not explained, have occurred in France, affecting the territory extending from Nice to the eastern frontier of the republic, according to special cable advices received in New York by the French Cable company from its central office in Paris.

The telegraphic communication has been seriously interfered with throughout the eastern and southern parts of France, affecting the service into Italy, Switzerland, Germany and Austria.

Later a dispatch from Paris announced that the cessation of telegraphic communication with and in the territory named was due to a violent storm, presumably electric, but that no catastrophe had occurred.

HALEY'S COMET

A MENACE TO HUMAN LIFE.

Chemists are of the opinion, that if astronomers are correct in their calculations, that the cyanogen gas that follows in the wake of Haley's comet will destroy human life. We have always considered astronomers scrupulously exact in their calculations of the size, distance and speed, at which planets move in their orbits, because we know they tell us, to a minute, when the sun or moon will be in eclipse. We, in this locality, have felt ourselves almost immune or safe from disasters, etc., but to us there is an ominous foreboding in these predictions of Haley's comet, and the risk of life to the weak and infirm anticipated. In May, when this comet passes the earth, it is never dangerous to be safe, and those who are physically weak should prepare for the ordeal, which we are informed will only last for a few minutes as the comet is traveling 1,140 miles a minute. We advise you to insure yourselves against this risk by taking Hayes' Specific, which will eliminate the matter from the system, purify the blood and prepare yourself for what may not come.

River Forecast.

The river at Paducah will fall during the next 24 hours and reach a stand.

Arrivals.

George Cowling from Metropolis.
Ohio from Golconda.

Boats Due.

Hopkins from Evansville.
Kentucky from Riverton, Ala.
John L. Lowry from Evansville.

River and Weather.

Stage of the river at 7 a. m. read 11.3 feet, a fall of two-tenths of a foot since yesterday morning. Weather clear and colder; business dull.

Mariners' Gossip.

Work on the boats at the marine ways is progressing slowly owing to the bad weather.

For the second time this season ice was thick in the river here today. It is new formed ice and although thin, it is floating in wide drifts. A continued cold spell, however, will effect a worse condition.

Both the Lowry and Hopkins are expected today from Evansville. It is supposed they have been delayed by ice.

About $100 damage was done to the gasoline launch Cutaway III, owned by Capt. E. A. Wait yesterday.
When the towboat Condor pulled the wharfboat off shore one of the wharf-boat chains at the south end caught under the Cutaway's rudder and she was capsized. Late yesterday afternoon she was righted and pumped out. Damage was also done to a gasoline launch owned by Jesse Well.
She was overturned in the same manner.

Work of installing the new rudders on the Dick Fowler has been stopped owing to the weather. She will not resume the Cairo trade until some time next week.

The towboat Lyda is due out of the Tennessee river with ties.

Zero weather at the river front was reported by the wharfboat crew last night. The levee is covered with a mantle of snow. The river will reach a stand either today or tomorrow and begin rising. A high stage is predicted.

It is said that a packet boat has been secured at St. Louis to operate between that city and New Orleans within the next six weeks.

Grover Neblett has taken a position at the wharfboat during the day.
He was formerly night watchman.

MOB AT CAIRO

house they went a block south to Rudy Laurent's saloon and from there gradually dispersed. At 3:30 this morning about 50 remained in the vicinity, but all talk of violence had ceased.

At 3:30 this morning the body of the supposed dead man was still lying where it had fallen. Chief Egan and Captain Greaney called on the sheriff and asked permission to examine and take away the body, but the sheriff would not permit this.
They suggested to him that the man might not be dead and could be saved by prompt surgical attention.
But the sheriff would not yield. He said to Captain Greaney to bring up his militia and then he could take him away. The captain had previously sent out runners to summon his men and some of them were at the armory. He engaged an automobile to go after his men at their homes, in order to take charge of the situation under orders from the governor.

The Wounded Men.

Sam Wessinger was taken to the hospital for care. His wounds are not serious. George B. Walker had his wound dressed by Dr. Gordon and was able to be about shortly after. Horton Cochran and John Maloney had their wounds dressed and will not be disabled.

All these persons were hit by the scattering shot of the deputies who seemed to have used shotguns.

City Quiet All Day.

There were no signs or rumors of mob violence in the city yesterday, although the attacks of the two women had been a subject of much indignant comment. There were few strangers in the city and these seemed to be attending to business. The way was unusually quiet few people being on the streets.

At 4 o'clock this morning Co. K members went to the court house to take charge under Captain Greaney's command.

Sheriff Calls for Troops.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 18.—Governor
Deween late received a telephone message from Sheriff Nellis of Alexander county, asking that a company of troops be ordered out to assist him in preserving order in Cairo,

where there was fear of a race riot.

Governor Deween ordered Co. K of the Fourth Infantry at Cairo, to place themselves at the disposal of Sheriff Nellis, who stated that he had sworn in twenty deputies.

Sheriff Nellis informed Governor
Deween that yesterday two negroes who had been snatching purses on the streets of Cairo and that two women had been robbed, one of whom was a relative of Annie Pelley, the girl who was assaulted and murdered and whose murder caused the lynching of Will James, who was alleged to have been her murderer.

The sheriff stated that a brother of Miss Pelley had come from St. Louis and was going around among the saloons of Cairo inciting the habitues to violence against the negroes, who were indicted and who are in jail, and that he had sworn in additional deputies, but deemed it best in view of the James lynching to have troops sent to his aid.

Wants Saloons Closed.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 18.—Governor
Deween was in communication with Sheriff Nellis, of Cairo, and the latter requested the governor to issue orders closing the saloons. Nellis declared he anticipated further trouble and the governor advised him to swear in as many deputies as he could at the time. The governor said he would send another company of militia to Cairo to work with the Cairo company. The sheriff reported four men wounded and one killed, of the mob. The Edgingham company will be at Cairo today.

The sheriff says he endeavored to enlist the aid of the police force but could not do so.
